Ambassadors

- Brisbane: Brooke Hanson OAM, Australian Olympic Swimmer and radio/television presenter. Brooke along with husband Jared Clarke experienced nine months in the NICU after the birth of their son Jack Hanson Clarke. Jack was born at 28 weeks 5 days, 12 weeks premature, weighing just 663grams, severely growth restricted and only 32cm long. Sadly, after a nine-month battle in the NICU Jack passed away. Despite her loss, Brooke wants to continue to bring a greater awareness to the birth of premature babies and the importance Life's Little Treasures Foundation can have on parents, family and friends through the journey of their "Little Treasure".
- Brisbane: Michelle & Tom Worthington, Michelle is an internationally published award-winning author of empowering picture books for children of all ages, who has written a book for families of a premature baby called "My Brother Tom". Her gorgeous three year old Little Treasure Tom was born premature at 28 weeks, weighing 1350 grams. Michelle was the recent recipient of the 2018 AusMumpreneur Award for Business Excellence as a scholarship holder and graduate of the Women's Business School.
- Melbourne: Rusty Benson, Director, Raine & Makin. Dad to Jack and Juno. Jack, Rusty's first child, was a late preterm baby who spent the first 10 days of his life in NICU back in 2015. Since this challenging start, he is always open to sharing his experience to hopefully help others feel connected and not alone in theirs.
